VPPPA Wins 3 APEX Awards

We are so thrilled to announce that the 32nd Annual Awards for Publications Excellence (APEX Awards), released their 2020 winners, and VPPPA was chosen for three awards. APEX Awards are based on excellence in graphic design, editorial content and the ability to achieve overall communications excellence. APEX Grand Awards honor the outstanding works in each main category, while APEX Awards of Excellence recognize exceptional entries in each of the VPPPA was a Grand Award Winner for Design & Illustration for the Autumn 2019 issue of the Leader magazine, the Association's quarterly publication. VPPPA also received an Award of Excellence recognition in the category Magazines, Journals, & Tabloids - Most Improved, for the Leader. Rounding up the three awards was another Award of Excellence Recognition in the Social Media Blog Content Category for the VPPPA Blog.

VPPPA’s Virtual Annual Meeting of the Membership

Since we can't gather in person at the annual Safety+ Symposium, we are doing things a little bit differently this year. We will be hosting a livestream of VPPPA's Annual Meeting of the Membership on our YouTube channel, and we are counting on our members to join us.

Date: August 11, 2020
Time: 1pm Eastern Time
Location: YouTube Livestream

RSVP for the event!

Virginia Passes First-In-Nation OSHA Standard for COVID-19

In a split vote, the Virginia Safety and Health Codes Board (which includes author Courtney Malveaux) passed first-in-the-nation standards to address COVID-19 in workplaces. Virginia Occupational Safety and Health (VOSH), the state’s version of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), now will enforce a standard that mandates - and in some instances exceeds - guidance issued by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and OSHA. The new standard covers most private employers in Virginia, as well as all state and local employees.

In addition to CDC and OSHA guidelines, the standard includes provisions that require employers to:

- Provide flexible sick leave policies, telework and staggered shifts when feasible;
- Provide both handwashing stations and hand sanitizer when feasible;
- Assess risk levels of employers and suppliers before entry;
- Notify the Virginia Department of Health of positive COVID-19 tests;
- Notify VOSH of three or more positive COVID-19 tests within a two-week period;
- Assess hazard levels of all job tasks;
- Provide COVID-19 training of all employees within 30 days (except for low-hazard places of employment);
- Prepare infectious disease preparedness and response plans within 60 days;
- Post or present agency-prepared COVID-19 information to all employees; and
- Maintain air handling systems in accordance with manufacturers’ instructions and American National Standards Institute (ANSI) and American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE) standards.

Behavioral Health Q&A Column - July 2020

VPPPA has partnered with experts at MindWise Innovations to present a monthly Q&A article addressing questions that members might be hesitant to ask about. These columns will address your questions about mental health, substance abuse, brain injuries, family issues and more. You can read the column for July, here.

This month’s article discusses substance abuse and relapse during quarantine. Including:

1. What risk factors have led to increased drug and alcohol use during quarantine?
2. How can you manage risk for substance misuse and prevent relapse during COVID?

Recognize Safe + Sound Week - August 10-16, 2020

Safe + Sound Week is a nationwide event held each August that recognizes the successes of workplace health and safety programs and offers information and ideas on how to keep America's workers safe.

Why Participate?
Successful safety and health programs can proactively identify and manage workplace hazards before they cause injury or illness, improving sustainability and the bottom line. Participating in Safe + Sound Week can help get your program started, energize an existing one, or provide a chance to recognize your safety successes.

Who Participates?
All organizations looking for an opportunity to recognize their commitment to safety are welcome to participate. Last year, more than 3,300 businesses helped to raise awareness about workers' health and safety!

Click here to learn more and sign up to participate.

COVID-19 OSHA Updates - July

OSHA has put together a PDF file that digests the information that they have shared over the last several weeks about the resources on OSHA's webpage, and those of several other agencies and organizations. It includes a list of general COVID-19 resources grouped by agency, a section with resources on reopening workplaces, and additional industry-specific COVID-19 resources grouped by industry. To help navigate the growing list, they have also included a table of contents. The most recent update was made on July 2, 2020. You can also find a variety of COVID-19 resources here.
